

Econometric Methods for Evaluation of Agricultural Policy: Difference-in-Differences Method

KAWASAKI Kentaro

Summary

Causality is pivotal in evidence-based policy making and can be quantified with several econometric methods. This study reviews applications of difference-in-differences method in the field of agricultural economics.

Keywords: Evidence-based policy making (EBPM), difference-in-differences, agricultural policy, causal inference, econometrics