

EU Efforts to Build a Sustainable Food System and Implications for Japan : Toward the Expansion of Organic Agriculture

Tuesday, February 8, 2022; 15:00-18:30 (Japan Standard Time)

Online symposium (Zoom) ; Charge: Free ;

Language: Japanese and English (simultaneous interpretation, handout for both languages)

15:00-17:25 reports

EU's efforts to ensure sustainability

Tomoyuki Kuwaharada
(PRIMAFF, planning officer)

German Organic Farming Strategy

Jörn Sanders
(Director, Socio-Economic Research Department, FiBL Germany)

Estimation of the organic food market scale
in Europe, the United States and Japan

Yoko Taniguchi (Associate Professor, Setsunan University)

Scale and structure of the organic food market in Japan

Toru Sakai
(Associate Professor, Akita Prefectural University)

comment to the reports

Rei Kosaka

(PRIMAFF Visiting Researcher /
Professor, Nagoya University)

Keiichi Ishii

(Associate Professor, Tohoku University)

Toshio Ooyama

(PRIMAFF Visiting Researcher /
Associate Professor, Rikkyo University)

17:30-18:30 Discussion

Panelist : presenters and commentators

Coordinator : Atsushi Tanaka (PRIMAFF, principal research officer)

Registration: Policy Research Institute, Ministry of Agriculture, Forestry and Fisheries (PRIMAFF) website

Registration form: https://www.contactus.maff.go.jp/j/primaff/form/220107_220208.html

Registration deadline : Thursday, February 3, 2022.

Contact : PRIMAFF

<https://www.contactus.maff.go.jp/primaff/form/e/181010.html>

Registration form